

October 2013

LEED certified for sustainable energy efficiency of our building materials

The new Coca-Cola headquarters in Madrid has been awarded an LEED for the choice of Reynobond. The composite panel combined with FSC-certified wood, LED lighting, and photovoltaic systems ensures low energy consumption of your projects. Isabel Moyses, Alcoa Sales Manager, accompanied the project.

>> More about this project

