June 2013

Our responsibility for people, environment and society

We refer to our social engagement and to the manufacturing including the use of raw material and natural resources. In addition we develop product lines that contribute to preserving the environment. Learn more in the brochure “Sustainability at Alcoa Architectural Products”.

>> Download here

